Notorious for the delight he took in tweaking the sexual taboos of the Victorian age-as well as the delight he took in the resulting shock of his bashful peers-British adventurer, linguist, and author CAPTAIN SIR RICHARD FRANCIS BURTON (1821-1890) is perhaps best remembered for his unexpurgated translation of the Eastern classic The One Thousand and One Nights, more famously known today as The Arabian Nights. Originating in Persian, Indian, and Arabic sources as far back as the ninth century AD, this collection of bawdy tales-which Burton was the first to bring to English readers in uncensored form-has exerted incalculable influence on modern literature. It represents one of the earliest examples of a framing story, as young Shahrazad, under threat of execution by the King, postpones her death by regaling him with these wildly entertaining stories over the course of 1,001 nights. The stories themselves feature early instances of sexual humor, satire and parody, murder mystery, horror, and even science fiction. Burton's annotated 16-volume collection, as infamous as it is important, was first published between 1885 and 1888, and remains an entertainingly naughty read. Volume XVI-the sixth and final volume of Burton's Supplemental Nights-includes: ["The History of Al-Bundukani or, the Caliph Harun Al-Rashid and the Daughter of King Kisra" ["The Linguist-Dame, The Duenna and the King's Son" ["The Tale of the Warlock and the Young Cook of Baghdad" ["The Pleasant History of the Cock and the Fox" [appendices, notes, and indexes [and more.

Who's afraid of for-profit education? Those who work in non-profit or government owned and operated schools. Many parents and other stakeholders have been made fearful by this education establishment. What's more important to humans: nutrition or education? Nutrition is more important because it is the prerequisite for other human activities, including education. What organizations provide food and who pays for the food? Food is provided by for-profit farmers, for-profit processors, for-profit wholesalers, and for-profit retailers. Most food is purchased with the consumers' own money, but a significant amount is purchased by low-income individuals using food stamps. Why can't education be provided similarly using education stamps? We trust for-profit enterprises to provide our food. Why can't we trust for-profit enterprises to provide K-12 education? Fearmongers have frightened us and made us into gullible compliant socialists who despise commercial activities in education. Go to the supermarket and ponder its marvelous array of foods and then contemplate how a for-profit K-12 education sector would please and amaze its customers.

Authors: Ann Allott Daniel M. Kowalski Edward F. "Ned" Frazier Since the 1980s, employers have been required to verify that new employees are entitled to work in the United States. Enforcement of the verification laws had been lax, however, until a trend in recent years that began to show large increases in "immigration raids" and other government enforcement activity to remove unauthorized noncitizens from U.S. workplaces. Verification enforcement exposes employers to serious criminal charges and heavy fines and penalties. At the same time, however, the statutes also impose liability on employers for discriminating on the basis of national origin or citizenship status. As with documentation violations, discrimination charges similarly can lead to fines, penalties, large awards of damages, litigation expense, unfavorable publicity, and other harmful effects on a business. It can be very difficult to avoid liability for documentation violations while at the same time avoiding liability under the discrimination provisions. Immigration Enforcement: I-9 Compliance Handbook offers guidance from Ann Allott, an attorney who has spent years practicing, writing, and speaking on just this problem. She offers easily understood, step-by-step procedures, sample forms and notices, and reference materials to point employers through this difficult area of immigration and employment law. Additional material is contributed by Daniel Kowalski, editor-in-chief of Bender's Immigration Bulletin, and by Edward F. Frazier, a long-time HR expert.
