Coming of age in feudal Java, where women are regarded as property, a young woman from a fishing village is given in marriage to a wealthy aristocrat only to learn that she is to be discarded and separated from her children. By the author of The Mute's Soliloquy. 20,000 first printing.

This book is written for those intending to learn the word class in the grammar of English, especially for the novice or starters. It starts with the origins of the parts of speech and contains the explanation of the parts of speech alphabetically. Exercises are available to drill the readers' comprehension upon completing reading a chapter. Those exercises are useful for the readers in order to implement the readers' capability in identifying, classifying, analyzing sentences and finally writing down a using the part of speech about a certain topic.

Napoleon Bonaparte, when referring to China, famously said; "China is a sleeping giant. Let her sleep, for when she wakes, she will shake the world." His words were prophetic. For centuries China slumbered. Then, about forty years ago she woke up and since that time has risen to become the world's second largest economy by GDP with the world's greatest purchasing power. This book tells of China's turbulent past. It is a story of famine and flood, invasion and occupation, revolution and renewal, world war and civil war. Starting with the pre-historical Yellow Emperor, the earlier chapters trace the origins of the Great Wall, the discovery of the Terracotta Warriors and the opening up of the ancient Silk Road. Later chapters include the arrival of Buddhism, the period under the Mongol rule of Kublai Khan as well as the refinement of porcelain and the opening up of trade with the West under the Ming dynasty. The final chapters cover the opium wars and the 'hundred years of humiliation' that led to the fall of the Qing dynasty. This is followed by the Republican era, Civil War and the arrival of Communism. The Epilogue looks at how China has succeeded in combining socialism with a market economy that has resulted in a dynamic and exciting country. As with other books in the 'In Brief' series, this book is aimed at the general reader who wants to understand a particular historical topic but does not have the time or inclination to read a heavy academic tome. With this mind, footnotes have been omitted. While there will inevitably be gaps in a book of this size, the intention is to cover the most significant events that moulded China's history. Should the reader be inspired to further reading on the subject, a small selection of the main works that have been consulted is provided at the end. Where possible, maps and charts are provided which should help the reader navigate through the text. A 'Who's Who and What's What' is included at the end.

Featured in multiple "must-read" lists, No One Tells You This is "sharp, intimate...A funny, frank, and fearless memoir...and a refreshing view of the possibilities—and pitfalls—personal freedom can offer modern women" (Kirkus Reviews). If the story doesn't end with marriage or a child, what then? This question plagued Glynnis MacNicol on the eve of her fortieth birthday. Despite a successful career as a writer, and an exciting life in New York City, Glynnis was constantly reminded she had neither of the things the world expected of a woman her age: a partner or a baby. She knew she was supposed to feel bad about this. After all, single women and those without children are often seen as objects of pity or indulgent spoiled creatures who think only of themselves. Glynnis refused to be cast into either of those roles, and yet the question remained: What now? There was no good blueprint for how to be a woman alone in the world. It was time to create one. Over the course of her fortieth year, which this "beguiling" (The Washington Post) memoir chronicles, Glynnis embarks on a revealing journey of self-discovery that continually contradicts everything she'd been led to expect. Through the trials of family illness and turmoil, and the thrills of far-flung travel and adventures with men, young and old (and sometimes wearing cowboy hats), she wrestles with her biggest hopes and fears about love, death, sex, friendship, and loneliness. In doing so, she discovers that holding the power to determine her own fate requires a resilience and courage that no one talks about, and is more rewarding than anyone imagines. "Amid the raft of motherhood memoirs out this summer, it's refreshing to read a book unapologetically dedicated to the fulfillment of single life" (Vogue). No One Tells You This is an "honest" (Huffington Post) reckoning with modern womanhood and "a perfect balance between edgy and poignant" (People)—an exhilarating journey that will resonate with anyone determined to live by their own rules.

Dan was the doctor's privileged son. Molly was from the wrong side of the tracks. Together they made magic — until Molly became pregnant. When Molly's father made her leave town, she told no one about the baby — including Dan. Now a family crisis brings successful businesswoman Molly home. What if doctor Dan learns about their child? She tries desperately to resist him — knowing that one moment in his arms will reveal her precious secret.... Mills & Boon Modern — Seduction, glamour and sinfully seductive heroes await you in luxurious international locations.

"The lively story of the Civil War's most unlikely—and most uncelebrated—genius" (The Wall Street Journal)—General Montgomery C. Meigs, who built the Union Army and was judged by Abraham Lincoln, William Seward, and Edwin Stanton to be the indispensable architect of the Union victory. Born to a well-to-do, connected family in 1816, Montgomery C. Meigs graduated from West Point as an engineer. He helped build America's forts and served under Lt. Robert E. Lee to make navigation improvements on the Mississippi River. As a young man, he designed the Washington aqueducts in a city where people were dying from contaminated water. He built the spectacular wings and the massive dome of the brand new US Capitol. Introduced to President Lincoln by Secretary of State William Seward, Meigs became Lincoln's Quartermaster, in charge of supplies. It was during the Civil War that Meigs became a national hero. He commanded Ulysses S. Grant's base of supplies that made Union victories, including Gettysburg, possible. He sustained Sherman's army in Georgia, and the March to the Sea. After the war, Meigs built Arlington Cemetery (on land that had been Robert E. Lee's home). Civil War historian James McPherson calls Meigs "the unsung hero of northern victory," and Robert O'Harrow Jr.'s biography of the victorious general who was never on the battlefield tells the full dramatic story of this fierce, strong, honest, loyal, forward-thinking figure. "An excellent biography...O'Harrow's thorough, masterfully crafted, and impeccable researched biography is destined to become the authoritative volume on Meigs" (The Civil War Monitor).

Supernova: The Knight, The Princess and the Falling Star presents a series of intertwined and unconventional love stories, straight and gay, with a bit of science and spirituality added to the mix. The major characters are young, urban, and technologically highly aware. They are caught up in major forms of contemporary social conflict. The work has been highly acclaimed. The poet Taufiq Ismail has written: "A renewal has taken place in Indonesian literature over the past decade. Supernova is an intelligent, unique and truly exciting exploration of science, spirituality and the nature of love." The literary critic Jacob Soemardjo suggests: "This is an attractive novel by a young writer. It is an intellectual work in the form of a work of pop art, set in the real world. It opposes old values with new ways of understanding, so that readers can see the world in a different way."

This book contains examples of "convincing cases" that were selected from all over Europe and presented by experienced users and healthcare decision-makers. These examples are based on successful cases of implementation of health telematics applications and services such as electronic healthcare records and hospital information systems, specialised departmental systems, emergency telemedicine, and regional healthcare networks. Examples of experiences relating to medical informatics education are also included since the education is a crucial factor in the area of user acceptance. Cases of successful promotion of good quality applications and other issues related to users and technology are included in the last section. The readers will find qualitative and quantitative descriptions of many useful experiences of implementation and use of health telematics systems and services. The text of many of the papers is very rich in quantitative analysis and statistics providing good source of reference.

Neil deGrasse Tyson's #1 New York Times best-selling guide to the cosmos, adapted for young readers. From the basics of physics to big questions about the nature of space and time, celebrated astrophysicist and science communicator Neil deGrasse Tyson breaks down the mysteries of the cosmos into bite-sized pieces. Astrophysics for Young People in a Hurry describes the fundamental rules and unknowns of our universe clearly—and with Tyson's characteristic wit, there's a lot of fun thrown in, too. This adaptation by Gregory Mone includes full-color photos, infographics, and extra explanations to make even the trickiest concepts accessible. Building on the wonder inspired by outer space, Astrophysics for Young People in a Hurry introduces an exciting field and the principles of scientific inquiry to young readers.

Winner of the 2016 Financial Times Emerging Voices Award, and longlisted for the 2016 Man Booker International Prize A wry, affecting tale set in a small town on the Indonesian coast, Man Tiger tells the story of two interlinked and tormented families and of Margio, a young man ordinary in all particulars except that he conceals within himself a supernatural female white tiger. The inequities and betrayals of family life coalesce around and torment this magical being. An explosive act of violence follows, and its mysterious cause is unraveled as events progress toward a heartbreaking revelation. Lyrical and bawdy, experimental and political, this extraordinary novel announces the arrival of a powerful new voice on the global literary stage.

Radiofrequency (RF) has been used in many areas of medicine for some time, but only gained popularity in aesthetics in the early 2000s. Although initial procedures provided variable results, the field of RF has grown dramatically. Currently, a multitude of devices which offer an array of technologies, each geared to specific applications, are on the market. In this book, a comprehensive discussion of the evolving area of RF is provided, and the current and cutting-edge technologies which span from noninvasive treatments of facial wrinkles to invasive body contouring procedures are discussed in detail. The methodologies covered include thermal and ablative modalities, volumetric and fractional approaches, as well as practical aspects of application in clinical practice. Included are also pearls on patient management and prevention and treatment of complications. Finally, RF-based procedures are compared with equivalent laser and surgical approaches in a risk-benefit evaluation. Reviewing the standard of care for RF-based treatments and providing information relevant for clinical decision-making and practice management, this publication is a valuable tool for dermatologists, plastic surgeons and all practitioners who use or are contemplating the introduction of RF into practice.

Banyak cerita seru yang kita temui saat ko-ass, apalagi dari teman sendiri—sesama calon dokter. Ada teman yang semangat saat ko-ass biar bisa dekat sama suster untuk dijadikan pacar. Ada teman yang nggak semangat jadi dokter karena sebenarnya itu bukan pilihannya, tapi sang ortu. Namun, ada juga yang terlalu semangat menjadi dokter, kayak Budi. Budi pernah memeriksa pasien bayi dengan cara yang 'beda'. Saat menggunakan stetoskop, dengan semangatnya Budi memberi instruksi. "Dek, coba tarik napas...tariiiiik.....lepassss...." Orangnya cuma bisa bengong melihat si Budi. Aku dan Evie cuma bisa ketawa cekikikan di belakang. Parahnya, Budi baru sadar setelah selesai memeriksa. "Bud, itu kan pasien masih bayi. Emang dia ngerti lo suruh tarik napas?" komentar Evie. "Oh, iya!" jawabnya malu. -Bukune-

An unforgettable story of an extraordinary love and a town's prejudice during World War II. Sophie and the Rising Sun "suggests the small but heartwarming triumphs made possible by human dignity and courage." -Publisher's Weekly. In sleepy Salty Creek, Georgia, strangers are rare. When a quiet, unassuming stranger arrives--a Japanese man with a secret history of his own--he becomes the talk of the town and a new beginning for lonely Sophie, who lost her first love during World War I. "Wusshh...!" Sabetan tangan kiri super kilat dari si Asshole-lovic langsung mengarah ke muka gue. Kepala gue langsung ngelak dengan cepat. Tapi, "BUGK!!!"... gue baru ingat kalau thai boxing bisa juga pakai kaki. Dengan manis, kaki kanan Asshole-lovic mendarat di perut gue. Gue mental ampe Afrika. Wasit pertandingan nyamperin gue yang lagi sempoyongan di sudut ring, "Are you okay?" tanya sang wasit yang khawatir denger napas gue udah kayak orang TBC gara-gara kecapekan dipukulin. "Heheh... heh. I'm... I'm... HO.KEH," jawab gue dengan napas terpenggal-penggal. Sakit, sih... tapi apa sih yang nggak buat pengalaman.  Kenalin, nama gue Adis! Bosan terperangkap rutinitas, gue malah jadi kecanduan jalan-jalan meski kantong ini tipis. Sejak saat itu, dimulailah cerita gue sebagai backpacker gembel. Modal berburu tiket murah, beberapa bungkus mi instan, sarung buat gembolan... berangkat~! Tapi, jangan salah, petualangan gue nggak kalah serunya dibanding turis gedongan. Gue pernah joget-joget bareng para lady boy di Phuket—Thailand, adu jotos sama babon bule-tinggi-gede asal Rusia, main di gorong-gorong sisa perang—Vietnam, dan ngobrol pake bahasa Tarzan di semua tempat yang gue kunjungi. Dan, yang lebih menakjubkan, gue terpesona jingganya matahari terbenam di sebuah desa terpencil, Calabai; tersesat asyik di lebatnya rimba Kalimantan; sampai tersihirindahnya negeri Indonesia dari atas Gunung Tambora—NTB. Jadi..., yuk, Kawan! Kalo lo ngerasa jenuh, bete, mager alias males gerak—kayak kehabisan gairah hidup—ambil tas punggung lo, langkahkan kaki, dan raih semua petualangan di luar sana!" -Bukune-

I just want to be in heaven. When we enter seasons of hardship or shortage, we yearn for the peace, tranquility, and abundance we know we will find in heaven. But did you know that God has given us access to the riches of heaven here on earth? Bestselling author and entrepreneur Patricia King dives into Scripture and answers questions like · What does accessing the riches of heaven look like? · What kinds of riches are there? · How can I receive my spiritual inheritance? · What impedes me from accessing this heavenly abundance? · Does God bestow different kinds of riches on different people? The Father provides for his children and has given you the means to access his riches here and now. Will you accept his invitation?

In this New York Times Editor's Pick, the brilliant founder of MuslimGirl.com shares her harrowing and candid account of what it's like to be a young Muslim woman in the wake of 9/11, during the never-ending war on terror, and through the Trump era of casual racism. At nine years old, Amani Al-Khatahtbeh watched from her home in New Jersey as two planes crashed into the World Trade Center on September 11, 2001. That same year, she heard her first racial slur. At thirteen, her family took a trip to her father's native homeland of Jordan, and Amani experienced firsthand a culture built on the true peaceful nature of Islam in its purest form, not the Islamic stereotypes she heard on the news. Inspired by her trip and after years of feeling like her voice as a Muslim woman was marginalized during a time when it seemed all Western media could talk about was, ironically, Muslim women, Amani created a website called Muslim Girl. As the editor-in-chief, she put together a team of Muslim women and started a life dedicated to activism. Muslim Girl: A Coming of Age is the extraordinary account of Amani's journey through adolescence as a Muslim girl, from the Islamophobia she's faced on a daily basis, to the website she launched that became a cultural phenomenon, to the nation's political climate in 2016 as Donald Trump wins the presidency. While dispelling the myth that a headscarf signifies neither radicalism nor oppression, she shares both her own personal accounts and anecdotes from the "sisterhood" of writers that serve as her editorial team at Muslim Girl. Amani's "blunt...potent message...is a skillful unraveling of the myth of the submissive Muslim woman" (The New York Times Book Review) and a deeply necessary counterpoint to the current rhetoric about the Middle East.

Selama ko-ass, aku harus menghadapi macam-macam tingkah pasien. Dari mulai pemarah, pemalu, periang, penggerutu, mirip cerita Smurf-lah. Aku pernah dapet pasien preman, tiap mau aku suntik pantatnya dia pasti mengancam, "Awat kalo sakit ya Dok! Kutonjok kau!". Ada juga pasien yang hobi banget menjodoh-jodohkan anaknya sendiri, "Dokter, ini anak saya mau kenalan, ini namanya Sari. Anak saya cantik ya Dok, seumuran Dokter lagi! Dulu dia laki-laki, sekarang udah perempuan kok Dok." Gimana aku gak stress? "KOAAAAS!!!! PASIEN BARUUU!" teriak seorang suster. "Iya tau," kataku sedikit ngedumel. "Pasien apa, Sus?" "Minum racun serangga," jawab suster itu. Lalu aku memperhatikan wajah lemah pasien yang masih setengah sadar itu. "Heh! Nih kan cewek, kok masuk ke bangsal cowok?" tanyaku heran sambil memperhatikan kembali pasien di atas brangkar. "Eemmm," tiba-tiba suster itu membisikkan sesuatu ke telingaku, "pasiennya waria. Banci!" Ferdiriva Hamzah bukanlah calon dokter lagi, melainkan udah dokter beneran. Dalam buku Cado-Cado : Catatan Dodol Calon Dokter, kamu akan menyimak 14 pengalaman lucu Riva sewaktu menjalani koass atau pendidikan lanjut mahasiswa kedokteran dulu. Dari mulai dijebloskan ke ruangan penuh orang sakit jiwa sampai gemeteran merawat pasien waria. -Bukune-
