

Capricci E Coccole Una Giornata In Musica Ediz A Colori Con Cd Audio

Babies and toddlers will have a blast discovering the world in this first encyclopedia! Divided into themes of home, school, city, farm, ocean, mountains, and jungle, this large format board book teaches young children more than 900 words, perfectly matched with fun, clear illustrations, encouraging interactive learning between parents and their children. A spread showing a cozy living room features simple text for a door, table, sofa, vacuum, lamp, and dozens more objects. In a busy classroom, find clearly labeled desks, chairs, books, colored pencils, and anything else children might encounter at school. On a bright, sunny beach, a seagull, beach towel, sand castle, boat, and more can be found. Following each themed spread is a corresponding spread with facts and further information to introduce more advanced learning. Readers will learn that eagles are birds with large wings, that tow trucks help move cars when they're broken, and that if you go to the mountains in winter, you'll need a jacket. Little ones will build their vocabulary and stimulate their mind while enjoying colorful art. And with hundreds of people, animals, and objects to discover on its pages, kids will want to explore Baby Encyclopedia over and over again!

Antonio Giangrande, orgoglioso di essere diverso. Si nasce senza volerlo. Si muore senza volerlo. Si vive una vita di prese per il culo. Noi siamo quello che altri hanno voluto che diventassimo. Facciamo in modo che diventiamo quello che noi avremmo (rafforzativo di saremmo) voluto diventare. Rappresentare con verità storica, anche scomoda ai potenti di turno, la realtà contemporanea, rapportandola al passato e proiettandola al futuro. Per non reiterare vecchi errori. Perché la massa dimentica o non conosce. Denuncio i difetti e caldeggio i pregi italiani. Perché non abbiamo orgoglio e dignità per migliorarci e perché non sappiamo apprezzare, tutelare e promuovere quello che abbiamo ereditato dai nostri avi. Insomma, siamo bravi a farci del male e qualcuno deve pur essere diverso!

Louis I, King of the Sheep is a funny philosophical fable about a sheep who finds a crown, and revels in dreams of power. "Metto passione in tutto ciò che faccio, sono io, è il mio modo di vivere, giusto? Sbagliato? Non lo so, ma è l'unico modo che ho." Questa è Giulia, un po' don Chisciotte in jeans, un po' Peter Pan, 158 centimetri di concentrato di trentenne inquieta dell'hinterland milanese, e piena di voglia di mordere la vita e che ancora non ha capito cosa vorrà fare da grande, nonostante sia già madre di un bambino di otto anni, che sta allevando da sola. Dopo l'ennesima storia sbagliata, che le ha procurato infelicità, solitudine e attacchi di panico, Giulia smette di mentire a se stessa: se si sta male, non è amore, non può esserlo. L'amore fa star bene, deve farti sentire le bollicine della felicità, come se ti stappassero una lattina di Schweppes direttamente nel cervello. Un po' svitata, "vergognosamente spontanea", Giulia non si dà per vinta: dalla vita vuole la favola. Ci sarà pure un principe azzurro anche per lei? Intanto, si arrabatta come può, corre da un lavoro all'altro, coccola il figlio, si distrae nel traffico delle ore di punta, parla per ore al cellulare, si ostina a portare tacchi da 12 centimetri anche quando è insano farlo (ad esempio, per fare sopralluoghi sui tetti, nel tentativo di vendere impianti fotovoltaici). Quando si è aperti alla vita, generosi come Giulia, l'amore arriva. Forse, non senza qualche problema, anzi. Ma arriva di sicuro. Raffaella Nassisi, con Tredici maggio, ci regala un rosa scoppiettante, moderno, punteggiato da tonnellate di SMS, ironico, scritto con un linguaggio attuale, per raccontarci una storia di oggi e, come sempre quando si parla d'amore, anche di qualsiasi epoca.

Abandoned and mistreated, little Gerty is an angry and sometimes violent child, but is taken in by the gentle, virtuous lamplighter. From his gentle behavior Gerty learns how to curb her anger and let her virtue shine forth.

The creators of Jazz ABZ are back for an encore! With infectious rhythm and rhyme, musical master Wynton Marsalis opens kids' ears to the sounds around us. Features an audio read-along performed by the author! What's that sound? The back door squeeeeaks open, sounding like a noisy mouse nearby — eek, eeeek, eeeek! Big trucks on the highway rrrrrrrumble, just as hunger makes a tummy grrrrumble. Ringing with exuberance and auditory delights, this second collaboration by world-renowned jazz musician and composer Wynton Marsalis and acclaimed illustrator Paul Rogers takes readers (and listeners) on a rollicking, clanging, clapping tour through the many sounds that fill a neighborhood. Raffaello Borghini's Il Riposo (1584) is the most widely known Florentine document on the subject of the Counter-Reformation content of religious paintings. Despite its reputation as an art-historical text, this is the first English-language translation of Il Riposo to be published. A distillation of the art gossip that was a feature of the Medici Grand Ducal court, Borghini's treatise puts forth simple criteria for judging the quality of a work of art. Published sixteen years after the second edition of Giorgio Vasari's Vite, the text that set the standard for art-historical writing during the period, Il Riposo focuses on important issues that Vasari avoided, ignored, or was oblivious to. Picking up where Vasari left off, Borghini deals with artists who came after Michaelangelo and provides more comprehensive descriptions of artists who Vasari only touched upon such as Tintoretto, Veronese, Barocci, and the artists of Francesco I's Studiolo. This text is also invaluable as a description of the mid-sixteenth century reaction against the style of the 'maniera,' which stressed the representation of self-consciously convoluted figures in complicated works of art. The first art treatise specifically directed toward non-practitioners, Il Riposo gives unique insight into the early stages of art history as a discipline, late Renaissance art and theory, and the Counter-Reformation in Italy.

Mr. Postmouse and his family are going on vacation! Of course, he'll need to bring along a few parcels. After all, "a postmouse's rounds are never done!" Traveling by hot-air balloon, cruise ship and even by camel, the intrepid mouse family treks around the world, from the forest to the sea, the desert to the ice field, finding adventure, new discoveries and animal friends at every stop. And all along the way, Mr. Postmouse never misses a delivery! Kids will want to pack their bags and tag along. They've never seen a vacation quite like this one!

"Music is your own experience . . . If you don't live it, it won't come out of your horn." —Charlie Parker This colorful little book of uplifting quotes and tailored tips delivers motivational sparks and creative signposts for musicians. Read it, play to it, use it as a makeshift percussion instrument—whatever you do it, the aim is simple: to get you making music!

With evocative black-and-white illustrations and moving prose, readers are introduced to jazz-music legend and civil-rights activist Nina Simone. A stunning picture-book biography of the High Priestess of Soul and one of the greatest voices of the 20th century. Shared as a lullaby to her daughter, a soulful song recounts Simone's career, the trials she faced as an African American woman, and the stand she took during the Civil Rights Movement. This poignant picture book offers a melodic tale that is both a historic account of an iconic figure and an extraordinary look at how far we've come and how far we still need to go for social justice and equality. A timeless and timely message aptly appropriate for today's social and political climates. ? "A good introduction to Simone's life, from her early love of music to her rise to the status of legend" —Kirkus Reviews, starred review ? "Strikingly illustrated" —Booklist, starred review ? "Hauntingly beautiful illustrations" —Foreword Reviews, starred review "Stirring and powerful. . . ." —BookPage Valori, innovazione, adattabilità, passione e ideologia: queste, secondo Gary Hamel, riconosciuta autorità mondiale in tema di strategia, sono le cose che contano per le imprese di oggi e di domani, alla luce della dura lezione della crisi. Il libro, che è ad un tempo una "chiamata" per chi è pronto a ripensare i fondamenti del capitalismo e un'"agenda" per organizzazioni che vogliono prosperare in un mondo di speranze ridotte, distilla in 25 capitoli diretti ed essenziali tutti i principali temi del management - etica, competizione, leadership, organizzazione, talento eccetera - ribaltando le passate credenze e le prassi consolidate e fornendo elementi per il pur difficile cambiamento. Un'analisi franca ai limiti del brutale dello stato delle imprese oggi, avvalorata da molti richiami alla cronaca economica, aneddoti e trend del momento. Un testo di riferimento - già tradotto in 17 lingue - per tutte le organizzazioni che vogliono cercare di sopravvivere alla congiuntura negativa.

Join Cat and Mouse as they learn about feelings.

A thought-provoking book about the state of youth today with a strong criticism of the selfish, competitive and isolated lives that many parents lead, and powerful suggestions for a better alternative.

Bunny and Dog live on opposite sides of the fence. No one says hello. Or hi. But on the night of the shooting star, two doors open ...

The heart-warming tale of a sweet little pig with a whole heap of energy.

Basta un colpo di coda: Al centro di questo lavoro della giovane Anna Rita Vigilanza si trova l'amicizia tra due ragazze, in preda a crisi sentimentali e lavorative. Ma, in maniera quasi mitica e magica, l'arrivo di un cane di nome Speedy le unisce ancora di più, e con la sua empatia risolve tanti problemi piccoli e grandi alle due. Una sorta di pet-terapy letteraria potremmo dire. Infine, anche l'esperienza in un cottage si rivela decisiva.

If Daisy and Dad swapped around, she could feed Dad porridge while SHE ate chocolate fromage frais. And she could wheel him past the neighbours all dressed in pink! Dad thinks it would be great not to have to do any cleaning or cooking but to visit the zoo and play in the park instead! An irresistibly charming picture book, wonderful for fathers and daughters (and the whole family) to share.

In this book Umberto Eco argues that translation is not about comparing two languages, but about the interpretation of a text in two different languages, thus involving a shift between cultures. An author whose works have appeared in many languages, Eco is also the translator of Gérard de Nerval's Sylvie and Raymond Queneau's Exercices de style from French into Italian. In Experiences in Translation he draws on his substantial practical experience to identify and discuss some central problems of translation. As he convincingly demonstrates, a translation can express an evident deep sense of a text even when violating both lexical and referential faithfulness. Depicting translation as a semiotic task, he uses a wide range of source materials as illustration: the translations of his own and other novels, translations of the dialogue of American films into Italian, and various versions of the Bible. In the second part of his study he deals with translation theories proposed by Jakobson, Steiner, Peirce, and others. Overall, Eco identifies the different types of interpretive acts that count as translation. An enticing new typology emerges, based on his insistence on a common-sense approach and the necessity of taking a critical stance.

A mythical history of the beginnings of Rome, written for children by Laura Orvieto (1876-1953).

"Now a major motion picture! Includes full-color movie photos and exclusive content!"--Dust jacket.

From the author-illustrator of The Book of Mistakes comes a gorgeous picture book about caring for your own heart and living with kindness and empathy. My heart is a window. My heart is a slide. My heart can be closed...or opened up wide. Some days your heart is a puddle or a fence to keep the world out. But some days it is wide open to the love that surrounds you. With lyrical text and breathtaking art, My Heart empowers all readers to listen to the guide within in this ode to love and self-acceptance.

This beautifully illustrated picture word book contains exactly 199 labelled images of things to be found on a farm. Lots to look at and talk about, this is a great way to extend and broaden children's vocabulary and knowledge of different environments. A neat and practical format, perfect for taking on holiday. Part of the '199 Things' series, which includes '199 Things under the sea', '199 Things in the Garden' and '199 Animals'.

“An understated winner of a friendship story. ... simultaneously of-the-moment and timeless.” — Publishers Weekly, STARRED REVIEW What's in the box that Meredith has carried into the living room? Buddy doesn't know, but when the small, prickly creature says he is a pirate — and that Buddy is a pirate, too — the mismatched friends are off on a grand adventure. In this first book in the best-selling Buddy and Earl series, a dog who likes to play by the rules meets a hedgehog who knows no limits. Their friendship is tender and loyal, and their adventures are funny and imaginative. Maureen Fergus's text is witty and understated, and Carey Sookocheff's art emphasizes both the humor and the warmth of this odd and loveable animal couple. Correlates to the Common Core State Standards in English Language Arts: CCSS.ELA-LITERACY.RL.K.1 With prompting and support, ask and answer questions about key details in a text. CCSS.ELA-LITERACY.RL.1.3 Describe characters, settings, and major events in a story, using key details.

Food and its preparation play an integral role in this novel of a young Italian woman struggling to find her own identity in a family of strong personalities and colorful figures. Part autobiographical novel and part cookbook, Keeping House tells the story of a young Italian woman struggling to find self-definition and self-identity. Born into a prominent Jewish Italian family full of strong personalities and colorful figures, Clara narrates the humorous, dramatic, and often poignant events that inform her life. Intertwining recipes with her narrative, Clara uses food as markers for the cornerstones of her life, allowing her to discover and remember both public and private events—a Yom Kippur dinner, fascism and antifascism, the early years of the young Italian republic, the politics and culture of the Italian left, the openness of the 1960s and '70s, and the retreat into privacy of the 1980s. Clara Sereni is an award-winning Italian writer residing in Perugia, Italy. She is the author of several novels and a collection of short stories. Giovanna Miceli Jeffries teaches Italian at the University of Wisconsin at Madison. She is the author of Letteratura e Lavoro nella narrativa di Italo Svevo and editor of Feminine Feminists: Cultural Practices in Italy. Susan Briziarelli is Associate Professor of Italian at the University of San Diego. She is the author of Enrico Annibale Butti: The Case of the Minor Writer.

After trading his father for two goldfish, a boy and his little sister go on a rollicking adventure around town to get him back.

"I would like to declare Diana Wynne Jones an international treasure," proclaimed Neil Gaiman, Newbery Medalist and best-selling author. In this enchanting introduction to Diana Wynne Jones's magical and funny work, Earwig is a fearless young orphan. When she finds herself in a house of dark magic, she does whatever she can to adapt—especially if it means that she'll learn a little magic herself! A young middle grade novel by World Fantasy Award for Lifetime Achievement?winner Diana Wynne Jones, beautifully illustrated in black and white by Caldecott Medalist Paul O. Zelinsky. Not every orphan would love living at St. Morwald's Home for Children, but Earwig does. She gets whatever she wants, whenever she wants it, and it's been that way since she was dropped on the orphanage doorstep as a baby. But all that changes the day Bella Yaga and the Mandrake come to St. Morwald's, disguised as foster parents. Earwig is whisked off to their mysterious house full of invisible rooms, potions, and spell books, with magic around every corner. Most children would run in terror from a house like that . . . but not Earwig. Using her own cleverness—with a lot of help from a talking cat—she decides to show the witch who's boss.

This follow-up to the bestselling Tickle My Ears is another perfectly simple interactive board book that lets the reader take charge of bathtime.
