44 SCOTLAND STREET - Book 3 The residents and neighbors of 44 Scotland Street and the city of Edinburgh come to vivid life in these gently satirical, wonderfully perceptive serial novels, featuring six-year-old Bertie, a remarkably precocious boy—just ask his mother. This just in from Edinburgh: the complicated lives of the denizens of 44 Scotland Street are becoming no simpler. Domenica Macdonald has left for the Malacca Straits to conduct a perilous anthropological study of pirate households. Angus Lordie's dog, Cyril, has been stolen, and is facing an uncertain future wandering the streets. Bertie, the prodigiously talented six-year-old, is still enduring psychotherapy, but his burden is lightened by a junior orchestra's trip to Paris, where he makes some interesting new friends. Back in Edinburgh, there is romance for Pat with a handsome young man called Wolf, until she begins to see the attractions of the more prosaically named Matthew. Teeming with McCall Smith's wonderful wit and charming depictions of Edinburgh, Love Over Scotland is another beautiful ode to a city and its people that continue to fascinate this astounding author.

Due to detailed descriptions and explicit language, this collection is STRICTLY FORBIDDEN TO MINORS UNDER EIGHTEEN The collection includes: - He and my wife. I like it. - In front of your eyes. - The humiliated husband Three novels that describe the psychic and physical involvement of couples in search of sexual transgressions. They wish to satisfy their experiences involving a third person, enjoying the pleasure and with no jealousy on behalf of their partner. These are stories that go way overboard the traditional moral. An engaging spitting image of the new social trends in the digital era that bring together perfect strangers in search of libidinous variations, often theater of bisexual impulses. The common rule is one: climax

An amusing and amused writer, Malerba is a curious man: curious about language, history, customs, plots and coincidences of life. ... The author of What Is This Buzzing, Do You Hear It Too? is always maliciously ironic, alternating clues to ambiguities.

Spiritism and Psychology is a study of paranormal phenomenon from the standpoint of an accomplished psychologist. In this book, originally published in 1911, Flournoy explains why spiritism, the belief that people can speak to the dead, is impossible. He insists that spiritism can be explained through worldly and scientific means, if one admits some "supernormal" powers to average humans. Piece by piece, Flournoy deals with the major claims of spiritism, exposing how each can be explained through different means. An essential read for anyone interested in the occult, this book was considered a groundbreaking work in its time. Swiss professor THEODORE FLOURNOY (1854-1920) wrote a number of books on spiritism and is best remembered for From India to the Planet Mars (1900), which studied Hine Smith, a medium who recalled past lives, including one lived in India.

"With their intellectual brilliance, humor and wonderful eye for detail, Leonard Bernstein's letters blow all biographies out of the water."—The Economist (2013 Book of the Year) Leonard Bernstein was a charismatic and versatile musician—a brilliant conductor who attained international superstar status, and a gifted composer of Broadway musicals (West Side Story), symphonies (Age of Anxiety), choral works (Chichester Psalms), film scores (On the Waterfront), and much more. Bernstein was also an enthusiastic letter writer, and this book is the first to present a wide-ranging selection of his correspondence. The letters have been selected for the insights they offer into the passions of his life—musical and personal—and the extravagant scope of his musical and extra-musical activities. Bernstein's letters tell much about this complex man, his collaborators, his mentors, and others close to him. His galaxy of correspondents encompassed, among others, Aaron Copland, Stephen Sondheim, Jerome Robbins, Thornton Wilder, Boris Pasternak, Bette Davis, Adolph Green, Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, and family members including his wife Felicia and his sister Shirley. The majority of these letters have never been published before. They have been carefully chosen to demonstrate the breadth of Bernstein's musical interests, his constant struggle to find the time to compose, his turbulent and complex sexuality, his political activities, and his endless capacity for hard work. Beyond all this, these writings provide a glimpse of the man behind the legends: his humanity, warmth, volatility, intellectual brilliance, wonderful eye for descriptive detail, and humor. "The correspondence from and to the remarkable conductor is full of pleasure and insights."—The New York Times Book Review (Editors' Choice) "Exhaustive, thrilling [and] indispensable."—USA

EIGHT FAIRY TALES WRITTEN AND ILLUSTRATED BY ME A long, long time ago, in a town not a million miles from here, there was a rather grown-up little girl who just couldn't get enough of...fairy tales. And so begins my own favourite fairy tale, all about (you've guessed it!) fairy tales. I wrote them out of love, just for fun and because I simply couldn't live without them. Having kept them under wraps for so many years, I felt the time had come to....set them free. All my stories are dedicated to people I love. Those who know me also know that when I have something to say, I write. So now my fairy tales are available to anyone who wishes to read them. The stories are for small children and 'big kids' alike, and I hope they fill you with joy and wonder.

"Roman Ghosts is an English translation of Luigi Malerba's late novel, "Fantasmi romani," which was published in Italian in 2006. The work offers a view of contemporary Rome with a critique of its middle-class society"--

Due to detailed descriptions and explicit language, this romance is strictly forbidden to minors under eighteen. Luigi and Valeria are a very close-knit couple, in social, family and intimate life. He is in a particular period in which he desires depravity. He lives on obscene fantasies where he imagines his wife betray him. He dreams of spying on her like a voyeur, he mentally sees situations where there are three protagonists where bisexual approaches are not excluded. He involves his beautiful brunette wife with his fantasies proposing his desires. While Valeria refuses Luigi feels his perverse desire grow increasingly. One night his wife announces that she will go to the movies with a friend. Her husband, left alone, decides to go to dinner in a Chinese restaurant. There he sees something that will change his life...

Perec, the legendary author of Life: A User's Manual, was fascinated by the possibility of employing non-fictional languages for altogether more mischievous purposes. This volume collects various texts in which he uses the expressionless terminology of sociology, entomology and linguistics to achieve effects they are distinctly designed to avoid. Not surprisingly, it is experimental', but it is also strange, preposterous and highly entertaining. Harry Matthews co-wrote one of the essays.'

"Behind every thing there is almost always something else hidden." Certainly more than meets the eye with playful images and conceits, while most of it takes place in the head of Mr. Malerba's scapegrace little stamp dealer, confined in his small shop with its "odor of gum arabic. . . of faint mold." In the beginning, he is married to a spiteful wife; he is an insomniac; he smokes too many cigarettes. In the smoke rings--there's the lovely Miriam whom sometimes he suspects (ah, the serpent) of infidelity with his good friend Baldasseroni. But then, she doesn't even know him. He takes her to a radiologist for some other latent malignancy: he later consigns her to Hell - in fact he may have killed her. He's a Cannibal; he's a Sorcerer: he's a free-floater with the motility of a paramecium. Is he anybody? Is he everybody?

Perhaps, and the book, while an eclectic entertainment, is prankishly ingenuous, imaginative. Volatile."--Kirkus

"To read a novel by Anne Tyler is to fall in love." —PEOPLE Thirty-eight-year-old Jeremy Pauling has never left home. He lives on the top floor of a Baltimore row house where he creates collages of little people snipped from wrapping paper. His elderly mother putters in the rooms below, until her death. And it is then that Jeremy is forced to take in Mary Tell and her child as boarders. Mary is unaware of how much courage it takes Jeremy to look her in the eye. For Jeremy, like one of his paper creations, is fragile and easily torn--especially when he's falling in love....

SHORTLISTED FOR THE CRIME WRITERS' ASSOCIATION INTERNATIONAL DAGGER 2013. Florence, 1965. A man is found murdered, a pair of scissors stuck through his throat. Only one thing is known about him - he was a loan shark, who ruined and blackmailed the vulnerable men and women who would come to him for help. Inspector Bordelli prepares to launch a murder investigation. But the case will be a tough one for him, arousing mixed emotions: the desire for justice conflicting with a deep hostility for the victim. And he is missing his young police sidekick, Piras, who is convalescing at his parents' home in Sardinia. But Piras hasn't been recuperating for long before he too has a mysterious death to deal with . . .

Un grande disegno sono i Testi delle Piramidi, amato, progettato, partorito ben cinquemila anni fa e inciso sulle pareti delle tombe di alcuni Faraoni della V e VI Dinastia a Saqqara, ma non loro l'hanno pensato e tantomeno i sacerdoti del tempo, ma pochi individui in successione temporale rimasti sconosciuti, i cui scritti però sono stati ritenuti d'importanza capitale per la sopravvivenza celeste divina degli uomini di quel tempo e nazione, tanto da cercare di renderli immortali incidendoli a perpetua memoria e con pazienza certosina sulle pareti delle suddette tombe, quasi fosse la proprietà divina esclusiva loro, dei riposanti, nella vita, nel passaggio, nella morte. Ecco alcune bellissime pericopi di PEPI: PT 1139b: Dentro lo scrigno suo, dentro il luogo segreto suo, ha generato per lei, un Dio. PT 1160a: Egli ha dato il "Ricordo in forma scritta" suo presso gli uomini, e l'Amore suo presso gli Dei. PT 1316a: Questo Pepi è eguale a Dio, è il Figlio di Dio. PT 1442d: Ha amato te questo Pepi, dentro l'utero suo. Ha amato te questo Pepi, dentro il cuore suo. PT 1505a: Questo Pepi è lo sperma tuo, Osiris, tu sei efficace. PT 1508b: Questo Mery-Ra è lo sperma tuo, Ra, tu sei efficace. PT 1523b: "Sigillo di Vita!" "Tesoro degli Dei!" PT 1558b: Tu hai fatto in lui, lui stesso, questa grande e bellissima Parola che tu hai donato ad Osiris. ?adweard Khimsc è il Disegnatore della grande Religione del terzo millennio: il KHIMSCISMO, anche in continuità con le Rivelazioni degli antichi Egiziani. Ha già pubblicato in ebook: I TESTI DELLE PIRAMIDI - UNIS; I TESTI DELLE PIRAMIDI - TETI; ed ora I TESTI DELLE PIRAMIDI - PEPI. Reading level: 3 [orange].

Il mistero, che si tinge di giallo, di una struttura che dopo più di 13 anni non è ancora terminata. Un centro per l'autismo progettato per rispondere a tutte le esigenze delle persone affette da questa condizione altrettanto misteriosa. La cronaca di una dura, costante e determinata battaglia di una associazione di genitori che vogliono cambiare il mondo ed il futuro dei loro figli, lottando contro l'indifferenza e l'egoismo della politica e delle istituzioni. L'esperienza di un genitore in una vita cambiata dal destino che racconta vari episodi di sé, senza mai perdere la speranza e la fantasia. Tanti racconti si intrecciano in una ingarbugliata vicenda insieme a tante considerazioni su argomenti e avvenimenti vari e di attualità. Testimonianza, denuncia e necessità di un ritorno ai valori e all'etica.

In this wickedly hilarious collection of fables, Alessandro Boffa introduces us to Viskovitz and his never-ending search for his true love, Ljuba. As he changes from a lovelorn lion to a jealous finch, from a confused dung beetle to an enlightened police dog, Viskovitz embraces his metamorphoses with wry humor and an oftentimes painful sense of self. As an ant, Viskovitz fights his way to the top where his egotism calls on the colony to create a monument to his greatness out of a piece of bread. As a sponge, he is horrified by the inbreeding in his family—"I'm my own mother-in-law!!!"—and yearns for a change in current so he can mate with Ljuba, who lies downstream. As a mantis, he asks his mother what his father was like, only to hear, "Crunchy. A bit salty. High in fiber." Unfortunately, when he meets Ljuba shortly thereafter, he follows his father's fate. And as a scorpion, his uncontrollably deadly efficiency meets its match in Ljuba and finds "no way to escape this intolerable, sinister happiness."

"Maria Toorpakai is a true inspiration, a pioneer for millions of other women struggling to pave their own paths to autonomy, fulfillment, and genuine personhood." --Khaled Hosseini, author of The Kite Runner, A Thousand Splendid Suns, and And the Mountains Echoed Maria Toorpakai hails from Pakistan's violently oppressive northwest tribal region, where the idea of women playing sports is considered haram-un-Islamic-forbidden-and girls rarely leave their homes. But she did, passing as a boy in order to play the sports she loved, thus becoming a lightning rod of freedom in her country's fierce battle over women's rights. A Different Kind of Daughter tells of Maria's harrowing journey to play the sport she knew was her destiny, first living as a boy and roaming the violent back alleys of the frontier city of Peshawar, rising to become the number one female squash player in Pakistan. For Maria, squash was more than liberation-it was salvation. But it was also a death sentence, thrusting her into the national spotlight and the crosshairs of the Taliban, who wanted Maria and her family dead. Maria knew her only chance of survival was to flee the country. Enter Jonathon Power, the first North American to earn the title of top squash player in the world, and the only person to heed Maria's plea for help. Recognizing her determination and talent, Jonathon invited Maria to train and compete internationally in Canada. After years of living on the run from the Taliban, Maria packed up and left the only place she had ever known to move halfway across the globe and pursue her dream. Now Maria is well on the way to becoming a world champion as she continues to be a voice for oppressed women everywhere.

Minnow is different from the other girls in her town and there's plenty to set her apart: the blossom of pale scars which lie beneath Minnow's delicate ears, the fact that she has an affinity with the water which leaves people speechless, and that once - she is sure - in deep, deep water, her body began to glow like a sunken star. When her mum gets into trouble and is taken from their boat in the dead of night, Minnow is alone with one instruction: sail to Reykjavik to find your grandmother, she will keep you safe. Minnow has never sailed on her own before, but the call of the deep is a call she's been waiting to answer her whole young life.Perhaps a girl who is lost on land can be found in the Wild Deep.The stunning middle grade debut from Cerrie Burnell

The narrative focuses on discussions about literature between an author and an academic.

Politica, cultura, economia.

Want to change your life? Start small. 52 Changes, by Leo Babauta, of Zen Habits fame, suggests 52 changes you can make in a year, one change per week. The author writes, "This isn't a self-improvement book. It's an experimentation book. It's a change lab. It's a way to explore yourself, to figure out what works best for you, to get out of your comfort zone, to learn how to change, and to be OK with change. It's about living in a way that will give you the greatest fulfillment, help you help the world, and live more fully and in the present." Whether you need help with finances, time management, creativity, or cleaning your closet, Leo Babauta offers solid, helpful, friendly advice about making small changes that can make a big difference!
