

The Expense Of Time

Excerpt from Report on the U. S. Pharmacopoeia: Note on Rhubarb, for 1869.; Note on Collodion; Liquor Opii Compositus It now, therefore, becomes the duty of your reporter, on his own behalf, to offer the following review of the Pharmacopoeia, based upon his own practice and judgment. To give the reasons and arguments for the changes suggested would involve too much time and labor, and would extend this report beyond pro per limits. The utmost that can be undertaken is to give some prominent reason or argument, whenever this can be done in very few words. The first suggestion to be made is whether a revision, or at least a partial revision, of the Pharmacopoeia should not be made at shorter intervals than ten years. Good reasons are so numerous on both sides of this question that it may be difficult to decide it aright, but your reporter inclines to the belief that at least a partial revision should be more frequently made. The time is approaching, if not now come, when it will be wise to provide for the expenses incident to the revision of the Pharmacopoeia. It would be comparatively easy to defray the expenses of the Conventions by assessment upon the bodies represented in it. But the much heavier expenses of the Committee of Final Revision and Publication are not so easily met. If, as in the past, the members of that committee who are relied on to perform the labor are named from one locality, there is danger that the Pharmacopoeia may be unduly local in its character and influence; whilst if members go from a distance to attend these meetings, the loss of time and the expense are too great to be contributed by those best qualified to do the duty. The authors of any copyright Commentary upon the Pharmacopoeia are the only persons who get any adequate compensation for their labors in connection with it, and such need not necessarily serve in the committee at all. In regard to the future of the Pharmacopoeia this subject deserves earnest attention. It is suggested that the general principles and plan, and some of the leading special points in the construction and management of the Pharmacopoeia should be more freely discussed and determined by the Convention itself, and that an accurate photographic report of the proceedings of the Convention be taken and published. "Maurice Barrymore began life as Herbert Blyth, amid the jumbled bazaars and golden temples of East India. Sent to England for proper schooling, he was expelled from Harrow, quit Oxford, became Britain's middle-weight boxing champion, then turned to acting. When his hyper-Victorian family of civil servants, soldiers, and clergymen disowned him, he took the name "Barrymore," and sailed for America, where he married Georgie, the brilliant daughter of the theatrical Drews."--Publisher's description.

Earth Green Earth Blue Waters introduces the first edition, first Volume of a nonfiction book titled PLASMA FAITH PHYSICS, written by the Arctic Falcon. The book depicts a journey leading into the marrow of those infrastructural geo-political venues that are ever presently defacing, discrediting, and adulterating the codes of human destiny. The author refers to humanity as the intrinsic component of the human being that guarantees the perpetuity of life, time and matter. Furthermore, the author, Arctic Falcon, provides a perspective into multiple states of realities to examine the condition of creation and its creatures of life and reveals the riveting truth of those disregarded and disparaged qualities that define the virtues of creation and life. After intense research and questioning of the earth's leading agencies, the Arctic Falcon submits unto the earth and unto its population's reminders that the earth belongs to no one and to nothing. And gently reminds the reader that the same is for the created creatures of creation. The Arctic Falcon witnesses the extrapolation of the propensities of time, matter and life to reveal the inner layers of opposing forces that exist intervening to overwhelm life so to perpetuate itself at the expense of time, matter, and creation. Overall in this work written by the Arctic Falcon certain endeavors are gently launched to engage the human to make aware to the races of the earth that an invitation is extended for all to strengthen their faith and understanding that Time is the language of God. When God speaks the entire universe is moved and responds with what are cyclical perpetual movements. And that these movements in the best of our intellectual abilities are what we believe, accept and understand to be called; Time. And by what we deem virtuous, Time, in its cyclical perpetual obedience yields as a byproduct one of the evidences of eternity; life. Plasma Faith Physics is the first Volume, first edition of the book written to encapsulate creation with the wings of redemption revealing to convey the inner intrinsic integrities that define faith using astrophysical, geophysical, neurological, Nano technological and psychosocial disciplines to identify conflicting forces disrupting the harmonious and natural conditions of life, time and matter. Emphasizing on the human condition the author reveals the conflicting powers, settings and environments that serve as elements to oppose the earth, the universe, time and creation. Occasionally the author alludes to categorically project unearthed hidden specific motives that create discord and chaos in a world otherwise perfect and innocent. The author, ARCTIC FALCON, releases the infinite powers of eternity upon each of the pages and although every page may appear different from the next, each one is driven to serve the purposeful fortitudes of those qualitative values that forge creation into its momentous perpetuity. The author unveiling the layers that evil and corruption horde demonstrates deplorable discontent and distaste for the relentless unceasing campaigns of envious hate to deny and destroy truth, honor, faith, love, peace, hope in life and in time. The efforts of envious hate sets divisions into play with mechanisms of discord to divide and consume the hopes and promise of dreams and ambitions requiring honorable honest pursuits of freedom, liberty and happiness. A read that requires a transcendence and evolution of the reader of the page.

At a time when faculty roles are under great scrutiny and faculty work itself has an uncertain future, this book offers a new approach to examining academic professionalism. This collection of essays applies a philanthropic lens to contemporary debates and considers academic work completed out of a moral responsibility to the public good. It provides a counterpoint to narrow conceptions of appropriate faculty work as limited to the production of credit hours and research dollars and offers evidence that faculty can have a wider role both within and beyond the “ivory tower.” By examining faculty members’ many contributions, not only to students but to society-at-large, Faculty Work and the Public Good provides an alternate perspective on America’s colleges and universities that will help preserve and expand professorial contributions to the public good. Although not all faculty are philanthropically inclined, highlighting those who are will help preserve valuable aspects of faculty work and encourage more such contributions to society. This volume is an essential read for higher education policymakers, trustees, and administrators; students and scholars of higher education and philanthropy; and individual faculty concerned about their profession.
