

Top Notch Edition Parte A

This book is an historical survey of women's sport from 1850-1960. It looks at some of the more recent methodological approaches to writing sports history and raises questions about how the history of women's sport has so far been shaped by academic writers. Questions explored in this text include: What are the fresh perspectives and newly available sources for the historian of women's sport? How do these take forward established debates on women's place in sporting culture and what novel approaches do they suggest? How can our appreciation of fashion, travel, food and medical history be advanced by looking at women's involvement in sport? How can we use some of the current ideas and methodologies in the recent literature on the history and sociology of sport in order to look afresh at women's participation? Jean Williams's original research on these topics and more will be a useful resource for scholars in the fields of sports, women's studies, history and sociology.

I Am a Part of All that I Have Met: A Story of Greed, Love, and Inspiration By: Bill Bivins Life is good for highly acclaimed Justice Oliver Browning, well... life is tolerable... until it's horrible. He's invited by a colleague to make some "easy" money. However, it's more illegal than easy, and after being rebuffed when Browning tries to convince his buddy to turn himself in to the authorities, the justice knocks on the FBI's door. Thus, begins a new life of sorts as he enters the Witness Protection Program and is moved to a small mining town in Colorado. Surrounded by the breathtaking beauty of the area, Browning settles in as "Larry Fields" and faces a long list of WITSEC rules designed to keep him safe from the drug cartel he's angered by exposing their money-laundering scheme. Since his disinterested and distant wife refuses to join him in this "embarrassing" situation, he's on his own and soon meets the lovely owner of the local bookstore. But being unable to share his true identity and marital status, their gentle romance begins on very shaky ground. Even so, "Larry" gets a glimpse of how spectacular his life could be when and if his current troubles are resolved. "I Am a Part of All that I Have Met": A Story of Greed, Love, and Inspiration shows that when love is strong, it can grow, in spite of adversity. From the world's #1 bestselling author comes a collection of Discovery ID true crime stories where the bonds of matrimony and love can tear you brutally apart. Til Murder Do Us Part: Kathi Spiars can't believe she's found such a good man to marry as Stephen Marcum. Twelve years later, she starts to suspect that he isn't who he says he is. As she digs into his past, she doesn't realize that learning the truth will lead to a lifetime of fear and hiding. (with Andrew Bouelle) Ramp Up to Murder: Brandi McClain, a young beautiful teenager, moves to California from Arizona, to model and live with her new boyfriend, a professional skateboarder. But her perfect life is about to turn on its head. In San Diego, investigators hunt for a missing girl. It's a case that seems to plagued by dead ends. But once the truth emerges, it's more haunting than they could have imagined. (with Max DiLallo)

"I aim to kill every Indian who crosses my path, so help me God!" swears Lewis Wetzel. Part 2 continues the story of the Native American Indian warriors fighting a bloody struggle to stop the flood of immigrants pouring into their land. The settlers on the frontier band together to protect themselves. They didn't do well. George Washington didn't trust militias for a good reason. They blundered everywhere.
