Blank Lined Travel Journals For True Adventurers What better way to create the ultimate travel guide than by recording your own experiences. Don't rely on someone else's opinion. This is a unguided blank travel journal. We just give you the lined pages so you can write down whatever you want. Use as many or as little pages as you want per trip. Buy a travel journal for each destination you go to. If you love it you know you will go back. It is a good idea to write down the following in your journal before each trip starts: Emergency Contacts Personal Info Things To Do Before You Go Packing List Flight and Hotel Info Itinerary Local Languages Phrases We made it in a nice compact 5" x 8" size so it fits nicely in a backpack or small pocket after a world traveler gave us feedback that 6" x 9" was just a bit big for the compact backpacks. This good looking travel journal is sure to capture the adventures you have in all your travels. It makes the perfect travel companion. Makes the perfect gift for friend or family member who loves to travel the world.

Self-guided walking tours, details on accommodations in all price ranges, tasty and affordable places to eat, and a list of fantastic sights are provided in this informative guide designed for the value-conscious traveler.

Bryson brings his unique brand of humour to travel writing as he shoulders his backpack, keeps a tight hold on his wallet and heads for Europe. Travelling with Stephen Katz--also his wonderful sidekick in A Walk in the Woods--he wanders from Hammerfest in the far north, to Istanbul on the cusp of Asia. As he makes his way round this incredibly varied continent, he retraces his travels as a student twenty years before with caustic hilarity.

Selected as a Book of the Year in the TLS and Spectator The final decade of the Cold War, through the eyes of a laconic and elegant observer In 1979 Richard Bassett set out on a series of adventures and encounters in central Europe which allowed him to savour the last embers of the cosmopolitan old Hapsburg lands and gave him a ringside seat at the fall of another ancien regime, that of communist rule. From Trieste to Prague and Vienna to Warsaw, fading aristocrats, charming gangsters, fractious diplomats and glamorous informants provided him with an unexpected counterpoint to the austerities of life along the Iron Curtain, first as a professional musician and then as a foreign correspondent. The book shows us familiar events and places from unusual vantage points: dilapidated mansions and boarding-houses, train carriages and cafes, where the game of espionage between east and west is often set. There are unexpected encounters with Shirley Temple, Fitzroy Maclean, Lech Walesa and the last Empress of Austria. Bassett finds himself at the funeral of King Nicola of Montenegro in Cetinje, plays bridge with the last man alive to have been decorated by the Austrian Emperor Franz-Josef and watches the KGB representative in Prague bestowing the last rites on the Soviet empire in Europe. Music and painting, architecture and landscape, food and wine, friendship and history run through the book. The author is lucky, observant and leans romantically towards the values of an older age. He brilliantly conjures the time, the people he meets, and Mitteleuropa in one of the pivotal decades of its history.
